

OLIVER™

Serving What Matters

The Challenge

Offer variety in nutrition and presentation. Convenience has increasingly become imperative when delivering a consumer experience. Appetizing food presentation and safe sealing are required, whether it is a senior meal, breakfast in the classroom before the school day, or a convenient grab and go deli meal.

Our Solution

Oliver's portfolio addresses the need for flexibility and convenience. Our systems are designed and engineered to optimize the performances of its three elements. Equipment, trays, and lidding film work together to serve up operational efficiency, portion control, mess-free portability, and merchandising opportunities.

Flexibility in processing - hot, cold, frozen, oven, microwave - creates options for the meal production site and consumers. And no reason to worry about handling a "too hot" tray. Our fiber and compostable trays trap heat inside the tray and are cool to the touch. In addition, our design patented three compartment trays are generously sized for a complete meal in one tray.

A Product Portfolio of Options

With almost 75 possible combinations of film and trays we have you covered! And we are happy to discuss number 76! 1, 2, 3 compartment trays - in paper, fiber, Cpet and 100% compostable materials - can cover the great majority of application needs.

Our lidding films are engineered to deliver optimal performances in combination with our trays and sealing systems. Optical clarity and perforated film options elevate visual presentation as well as functionality.
